

Therech Technologies - Engineering Guidelines (2026)

Development Practices:

Code Reviews:

All production changes require peer review before deployment.

Testing:

Developers must write appropriate unit tests and integration tests.

Git Workflow:

Teams use feature branches and pull requests.

Direct commits to production branches are prohibited.

Documentation:

Engineering teams must maintain documentation for important systems and APIs.

Security:

Developers must follow secure coding practices and protect sensitive information.